

CLAIMS

Sub B1 > 1. (Amended once) Playing cards, or an electronic representation, that have the suit or value on one side and the both the suit and value on the other side.

A 2 2. (Amended once) A deck of playing cards, or an electronic representation, where some of the cards have the suit or value on one side and both the suit and value on the other, and the remaining cards have the suit and value on the same side and a non-descriptive back.

3. (Amended once) A poker game where cards are dealt in a diamond pattern, each of the four sides forming a hand, some or all of the cards have the suit or value on one side and both the suit and value on the other ~~are split representation~~, the player is allowed to exchange cards between hands, and the player is paid off according to a payable.

4. (Amended once) A poker game where cards are dealt in a diamond pattern, the interior cards of the pattern have the suit or value on one side and both the suit and value on the other ~~are split representation cards~~ and the corner cards are conventional cards dealt face down, the player is permitted to exchange some or all of the cards and is paid off according to a payable.

5. (Amended once) A poker game where n hands of cards are dealt where some or all of the cards have the suit or value on one side and both the suit and value on the other ~~are split representation cards~~, one or more bets can be placed and the player is paid off according to a payable.

Cont
A2

6. (Amended once) A method of playing poker where some or all of the cards have the suit or value on one side and both the suit and value on the other are split representation.

[Please add the following claims.]

7. (New) The Playing cards, or an electronic representation, of Claim 1, where each card has sides A and B, where side A has the suit or value, and side B has the both the suit and value, and where side A can change for each card so that in some hands only the suit appears on side A and in other hands only the value appears on side A for that card.

Interpretation of value
discussed at interview.

6-12
14-17

8. (New) The method of claim 6 where ten cards are dealt and the player selects five cards to form a poker hand, the poker hand is then compared to a payable.

9. (New) The method of claim 6 where ten cards are dealt in two rows of five cards each, the first row has suit cards, the second row has value cards, and the player is required to select five cards from the ten cards to create a five card poker hand.

10. (New) The method of claim 6 where nine cards are dealt in two rows, one row of five cards and the other row of four cards, one row has suit cards, the other row has value cards, and the player is required to select five cards from the nine cards to create a five card poker hand.

11. (New) The method of claim 6 where eight cards are dealt in two rows, each row has four cards, one row has suit cards, the other row has value cards, and the player is required to select cards from the eight cards to create a five card poker hand.

Cont

A2

12. (New) The method of claim 6 where more than five cards are dealt and the player selects five cards from the dealt cards to form a poker hand, the poker hand is then compared to a payable.

13. (New) Playing cards, or an electronic representation, used to play gambling card games like poker and blackjack where the cards do not have non- descriptive backs.

14. (New) The cards of claim 13 where ten cards are dealt and the player selects five cards to form a poker hand, the poker hand is then compared to a payable.

15. (New) The cards of claim 13 where ten cards are dealt in two rows of five cards each, one row has suit cards, the other row has value cards, and the player is required to select cards from the ten cards to create a five card poker hand.

16. (New) The cards of claim 13 where nine cards are dealt in two rows, one row of five cards and the other row of four cards, one row has suit cards, the other row has value cards, and the player is required to select cards from the nine cards to create a five card hand.

17. (New) The cards of claim 13 where eight cards are dealt in two rows, each row has four cards, one row has suit cards, the other row has value cards, and the player is required to select cards from the eight cards to create a five card poker hand.

18. (New) The cards of claim 13 where more than 5 cards are dealt and the player is required to select from the dealt cards a five card poker hand.